

San Diego State University Bread and Roses Center
Feminist Activist Research Symposium
Bread and Roses Activist-Scholar Fellowship Application

The Bread and Roses Activist-Scholar Fellowship provides stipends to students who will work on an activist research project with/for a community organization. Research projects are expected to promote feminist social justice goals. Students must make their own arrangements but faculty can assist by providing suggestions and feedback on organizations and project ideas. Awards will range between $500-$1000. Projects are expected to be completed on or before May 1, 2019. Award decisions will be made by the Bread and Roses Advisory Committee.

To apply, please complete and return this form with the required items to the Bread and Roses Center by email to BreadandRoses@sdsu.edu by Friday, November 2, 2018, 5pm PST.

Name: _____

Email: _____

Phone: _____

Department: _____

Level (undergraduate, graduate): _____

Please attach the following items to this application:

Proposal: A short (2-3 page) proposal that includes the following

- Executive Summary/Abstract
  - One paragraph summary of your proposed collaborative research project
- Needs Assessment
  - What social problem are you addressing?
- Program Goals and Objectives
  - How does the project promote feminist social justice goals?
  - What will you accomplish with this collaborative research project?
  - What question(s) will you answer and why are they important?
- Methodology
  - What methods you will use for your activist research?
  - Timeline and expected outcomes from the project
- Qualifications
  - Courses, skills, or work and/or volunteer experiences that make you a good fit for this project
  - Any other relevant information that can help us with our decision

1. Resume or CV (no more than 2 pages long).
2. Letter from the organization confirming that you will be collaborating with them.